

Questions about Violence

FOV vuxna
engelska

Domestic violence affects how you feel both physically and mentally, which is why we're asking you the following questions. It also affects your children's physical and mental health. Children have the right to grow up in an environment free from violence.

Violence might involve you being victimised personally, or you might witness someone else being victimised. You can receive support if you have been the victim of violence, or if you have seen or heard violent acts against someone close to you while growing up. You can also receive support if you have been violent towards someone else.

By "someone close to you", we mean a partner, family member, relative, or another person who is important in your life.

1. Have you ever been threatened, controlled, humiliated, harassed, or similar by someone close to you?

Yes

No

2. Have you ever been restrained, shoved, hit, kicked, or injured in some other way by someone close to you?

Yes

No

3. Have you ever felt pressured or forced to perform sexual acts by someone close to you?

Yes

No

4. Has someone who is NOT close to you ever been violent towards you as described in questions 1-3?

Yes

No

5. While growing up, did you ever see or hear violent acts against someone close to you as described in questions 1-3?

Yes

No

6. As an adult, have you ever been violent towards someone else as described in questions 1-3?

Yes

No

7. Have any children who live with you, or have lived with you, ever been the victims of violence as described in questions 1-3?

Yes

No

If you have any other thoughts or would like to mention something not covered here, please feel free to make notes on the back of the page! Thank you for completing this survey!