Welcome

Under the terms of BMJ's open access agreement with Bibsam Konsortium (Bibsam), corresponding authors* affiliated to a large number of Swedish universities and research institutions are eligible to publish open access (with fees covered by the agreement) in a range of BMJ journals.

You will also find information here if your institution is part of EIRA, the Swedish consortium for hospitals/healthcare, where a membership agreement entitles you to a discount on your APC in our fully open access journals. EIRA members are listed by region, if you have any queries as to your organisation's membership please contact EIRA directly.

*Acting as the main contact with us after editorial acceptance.

What authors need to know

- Articles eligible for funded publication:
 - original research articles (original articles reporting on primary research) in our BMJ Journals Collection* (Hybrid titles);

To find out if you are entitled to institutional funding follow our simple steps below. If you're ready to submit your paper you can do so straightaway by clicking on the relevant journal from the drop down menu in step 2.
