

Upper secondary school

- Collaboration between home and school – essential for schooling to function
- Often works well to start from the student's schedule and discuss needs for adaptations
- If your child does not have all the grades to begin a national programme, there are alternatives