

The story of wanting to have a specific seat on the bus

On the bus, there are lots of different seats.

People who ride the bus sit in a seat that is free. Sometimes there are a lot of seats to choose from. Sometimes it is almost full.

I always want to sit in the same seat on the bus. When it's taken, I get mad.

And then I think:

I wasn't lucky today - my favourite spot was taken.

It is not okay to ask someone who is already sitting in a seat to move.

Today I had to sit somewhere else, even though I didn't like it.

I will get to sit in my favourite spot when it's free.

I can never know in advance if it will be free, but I am happy every time it is!
