

Receiving the diagnosis

- It's common to feel many different emotions!
- Difficult to take in and remember all the information.
- Affects not only the child and parents, but others around you as well.