

How do you support the development of independence?

Expectations, challenges and excessive demands

Support, adaptation and “curling”

A daily challenge for parents as children become teenagers is assessing the degree of support they need